80 – Confined Space Retrieval Harness

The Confined Space Retrieval Harness by Buckingham is designed to easily lift a hurt man out of a confined area. Simply place the harness under the victim just below the armpits, secure the velcro chest strap closures, pass the leg straps with carabiners between the victim's legs and attach to leg strap loops, attach winch line hook to the retrieval loop, and lift to safety. The unique design of the retrieval harness supports the victim in an upright position making it easy to lift victim through man hole. One size fits all.
